Attention Students,

As we began this school year, our sense of "normalcy" is slightly returning to what we remember. We are FALCONS! We are strong and we can accomplish anything together!

You are my HEROES! I am so proud of your accomplishments during cycle I and how well you are adapting. You are strong and dedicated and I am honored to be a part of your life.

I have watched you evolve into responsible, respectful, KIND, smart and fearless young adults during this first part of the school year. I can't wait to see what cycle II has in store for you.

This month is a special month to be thankful for what/who we have in our life. I want to begin by sharing how thankful I am for having so many FALCONS in my life. I love you.
